Philips Internal Defibrillation Paddles

We produce reusable defibrillation paddles for our Philips, Agilent and Hewlett-Packard defibrillators.

Philips reusable internal paddles are solidly constructed of top-quality materials and coverings with resilient finishes to resist cracking and protect internal circuitry from corrosion brought on by the harshness of common cleaning methods and repeated sterilization. They are validated for steam, 100% EtO, 10/90 EtO, and Sterrad® and supported with a one-year, product replacement warranty.

Philips internal defibrillation paddles are available switched and switchless in a range of sizes from adult to infant. As with all our devices, they are designed, tested and manufactured to the highest standards of quality and performance to enhance and support your efforts in treating patients and saving lives.
